Each student would be assigned in advance a topic and asked to write a doctrinal research paper.

Non-Doctrinal Research:

The student would be asked to go out of the class room and library to make an empirical study of a problem which has social, economic moral or political dimension. Field data can be collected through any model of data collection.

Clinical Work:

The modalities can be evolved by the law school. One method is that the legal aid clinic of the law school can involve itself with other legal aid programmes in the area. Students are encouraged not only to work with the clinic but also to acquaint themselves with court proceedings, working of a business organization, tackling of labour disputes, drafting of business or other deeds and with public interest litigation. Law Teaching

A topic would be assigned to the student in advance. He is required to handle a class for 25 to 30 minutes, where LL.B. programme co-exists with LL.M. programme, the students may be asked to teach the LL.B. students.

Proposed change - MOOCS – Two MOOCS have to be undergone. One in IIIrd Semester & another in IVth Semester. Each MOOC carries 2 Credits (Max. 50 Marks) for each Semester..

Dissertation:

Dissertation of a minimum length of 120 pages has to be carried by the candidate in the area of his/her area of specialization in fourth semester. Dissertation shall be evaluated internally and externally through viva-voce.

• Credits:

All papers carry six credits and the dissertation in fourth semester carries 14 credits. Total credits are 82.

- Question Paper Pattern:

For semester end written examinations in theory, the question paper carrying 80 marks consists of 8 essay questions (Eighth question consists of four short notes out of which the candidate may choose any two to answer). The candidate may choose to write any four questions out of eight questions. Each question carries 20 marks.

- Marks:

Every paper carries 100 marks.

Except for the practical papers, 80 marks are allotted to written examination and 20 marks are allotted to internal assessment, which split as follows;

Class and seminar participation	10 marks
Home assignment	10 marks

- Practical Examination:

The practical examination consists of 100 Marks shall be held at the end of the third semester on Research Methodology, Law Teaching and Clinical Work. The marks are allotted as follows.

Doctrinal research paper	-	25 Marks
Non-doctrinal research	-	25 Marks
Law teaching	-	25 Marks
Clinical work	-	25 Marks

- Examination:

- Candidate shall take examination in each of the subjects prescribed for study at the end of the semester by registering for that semester examination and obtaining hall ticket for the same. Duration of the examination is three hours.
- The semester end examination shall be based on the question paper set by an external paper setter.
- A candidate will be declared to have passed in the concerned paper if the candidate secures a minimum of 40% marks. However, for practical papers, a minimum of 50% is essential. The practical papers of LL.M course are, paper 3 (compulsory practical paper) in the Third semester and the dissertation in the Fourth Semester.
- For qualifying in the whole examination for obtaining the LL.M degree, the candidate has to secure a minimum overall aggregate of 50%. The calculation of the aggregate percentage required for qualifying in the examination would be done only at the end of the completion of the course.
- Grafting/Grace is permitted. Grafting allows a candidate an opportunity to utilize the excess marks he earned in a paper for filling up the shortage of marks in the paper in which the candidate failed. Eg, A candidate who secured only 35 Marks, would fail having fallen short by 5 Marks of the required minimum pass mark which is 40 Marks. However, If such candidate happened to secure 45 marks in another paper, the extra five marks which is in excess of what is required for a pass could be notionally added to fill the deficit of 5 marks of the paper in which the candidate actually failed and thereby declare the candidate to have been passed in such paper.

Note: Grafting can be availed only when the candidate will be able to pass in the whole examination due to grafting. Grafting to the extent of one mark per hundred marks of each semester can be added to a maximum of two papers only.

- 0.5 or more will be rounded up to the higher value of 1 only for the purpose of obtaining pass mark or class elevation, third class to second class or second class to first class. Eg 4.96 will be treated as 5.0. Similarly, 5.45 becomes 5.5

COURSE NAME : CORPORATE FINANCE COURSE CODE : TH-103108

Course Objectives:

Industrialisation has played, and has to play, a very vital role in the economic development of India. In the post independent era, industrial development is regarded, and hence employed, as principal means in the strategy for achieving the goal of economic and social justice envisioned in the Constitution. Corporations, both public and private, are viewed as a powerful instrument for development. In a developing society like India enormous varieties of consumer goods are manufactured or produced. Obviously, the situation raises the issues of procuring, utilising and managing the finances. For this purpose a science of financial management techniques has been evolved. The faculties of commerce, business and management studies have since last decades started to impart instruction so as to turn out sufficiently well equipped and adequately trained financial personnel. However, the legal and juristic aspects of corporate finance have been more or less not effectively taken care of.

In view of the above perspectives the broad objectives of this course may be formulated as follows:

- (i) To understand the economic and legal dimensions of corporate finance in the process of industrial development in establishing social order in the context of constitutional values
- (ii) To acquaint the students with the normative, philosophical and economic contours of various statutory rules relating to corporate finance
- (iii) To acquaint the students with the organisation, functions, lending, and recovery procedures, conditions of lending and accountability of international, national and state financing institutions and also of commercial banks; and

COURSE NAME : LEGAL EDUCATION AND RESEARCH METHODOLOGY

COURSE CODE : TH-103202

Course Objectives:

A post-graduate student of law should get an insight into the objectives of legal education. He should have an exposure to programmes like organization of seminars, publication of law journals and holding of legal aid clinics.

Law is taught in different ways in different countries. The LL.M. course, being intended also to produce lawyers with better competence and expertise, it is imperative that the student should familiarise himself with the different systems of legal education. The lecture method both at LL.B. level and LL.M. level has many demerits. The existing lacunae can be eliminated by following other methods of learning such as case methods, problem method, discussion method, seminar method and a combination of all these methods. The student has to be exposed to these methods so as to develop his skills.

Growth of legal science in India depends on the nature and career of legal research. The syllabus is designed to develop also skills in research and writing in a systematic manner.

Syllabus

1. Objectives of Legal Education

Learning outcome :

Studies doctrinal and non- doctrinal socio legal research.

2. Lecture Method of Teaching – Merits and demerits

Learning outcome :

Know the relevance of empirical research.

3. The Problem Method

Learning outcome :

- Preparing the hypothesis.

4. Discussion method and its suitability at postgraduate legal teaching

Learning outcome :

24

Understand the inductive method and deductive method of the study

5. The Seminar Method of teaching

Learning outcome :

- Studies the research problem.
6. Examination system and problems in evaluation – external and internal assessment.
Learning outcome :
- Importance of survey on available literature and bibliographic research.
7. Student participation in law school programmes – Organisation of Seminars, publication of journal and assessment of teachers.
Learning outcome :
- Studying the decisional materials including foreign decisions in the area pertaining research problem.
8. Clinical legal education – legal aid, legal literacy, legal survey and law reform
Learning outcome :
- Study the juristic writings relevant to research in India along with foreign periodicals.

9. Research Methods

Social Legal Research
Doctrinal and non-doctrinal
Relevance of empirical research
induction and deduction

Identification of Problem of research

What is a research problem?
Survey of available literature and bibliographical research.
Legislative materials including subordinate legislation, notification and policy statements.

Decisional materials including foreign decisions; methods of discovering the “rule of the case” tracing the history of important cases and ensuring that these have not been over-ruled; discovering judicial conflict in the area pertaining to the research problem and the reasons thereof.

Juristic Writings – a survey of juristic literature relevant to select problems in India and foreign periodicals.

Compilation of list of reports or special studies conducted relevant to the problem.

10. Preparation of the Research Design

Formulation of the Research problem
Devising tools and techniques for collection of data: Methodology
Methods for the collection of statutory and case materials and juristic literature
Use of historical and comparative research materials
Use of observation studies
Use of questionnaires/interview
Use of case studies
Sampling procedures – design of sample, types of sampling to be adopted.
Use of scaling techniques
Jurimetrics
Computerized Research – A study of legal research programmes such as Lexis and West law coding
Classification and tabulation of data – use of cards for data collection – Rules for tabulation. Explanation of tabulated data.
Analysis of data

Learning outcome :
Understand the list of reports or special studies relevant to the research problem.

Course out comes:

After studying this paper, the student can

- Get to know the doctrinal and non-doctrinal socio legal research.
- Enlighten about the relevance of empirical research.
- Know the identification of hypothesis and problem of research.
- Know the importance of juristic writings in India as well as foreign periodicals.
- Understand the preparation of research design.
- Know the formulation of research problem.
- Understand how to apply the methods and techniques to the study.
- Get to know how to use case studies, questionnaires, interview, and observation methods.
- Understand the computerized research by the study of lexis and west law coding.
- Preparation of classification and tabulation of data through various sources.

COURSE NAME : LAW OF EXPORT IMPORT REGULATIONS
COURSE CODE : TH-103208

Course Objectives:

After independence India has embarked upon all round efforts to modernise her economy through developmental ventures. Greater and greater emphasis is placed on increase of production in both industrial and agricultural sectors. Besides, there was the ever-pressing need for raising capital for investment in certain basic and key industries. All these required a considerably high rate of investment of capital. The process of modernisation necessitated the adoption of newer technologies for industry and agriculture. These technologies had to be borrowed from other developed countries.

This, in turn, needed foreign exchange which could be earned by the increased exports of goods and raw materials from India. The need for accelerating the export trade of India's developing economy can hardly be over emphasised. Export earnings enable a developing country to finance its massive requirements of growth, to maintain its essential imports and thereby stimulate the process of its economic developments. In the words of Prof. V.K. R.V. Rao: "In fact, expansion of exports may well be described as an integral part of the development process, neglect of which can only be at the peril of development itself". Increasing exports have been necessitated to meet the growing needs of defence. India is a country rich in natural resources. One of the approaches to combat its economic backwardness could be in large-scale production and in maximization of its exports. Import and export of goods and raw materials is a complex, complicated and intricate activity. It involves elaborate economic, fiscal, budgetary and monetary policy considerations. Export and Import control policy is also closely connected with country's balance of payment position. The detailed procedures for imports and exports are provided in the Hand Book. The Union Government used to declare its import and export policy for a three-year period. At present they declare the policy for five years. The controls on exports and imports are closely connected with the Foreign Trade Regulation Act 1992. This course is designed to acquaint the students about the parameters of legal controls on imports and exports. The following syllabus prepared with these objectives will comprise about 42 units of one-hour duration each spread over a period of one semester.

COURSE NAME : INSURANCE LAW

COURSE CODE : TH-103304

Course Objectives:

As early as in 1601 one finds an excellent exposition of the insurance idea expressed in these words of an Act of British Parliament "the loss light-eth rather easily, upon many than heavily upon few". The insured person transfers from his own shoulders to the insurers, who, in return for agreeing to assume a potential risk of loss receive a payment known as premium. The insurers rely on the probability that only some of the losses, they insure against will in fact occur within any given period. They calculate, therefore, that they will be left with a profit. The insurer, on the other hand, is better able to risk his capital in trade since he knows that certain events which he cannot control, such as fire, shipwreck, will not cause him to lose his investment. The insurance idea is an old-institution of transactional trade. The age old form of insurance was the marine insurance. There is nothing like disaster to set men's minds to work. Consequently, in due course of time fire and life insurance, made their appearance. Within the last hundred years the insurance principle is being extended wider. Today one finds insurance cover for accidents, motor vehicles, glass, live stock, crop, burglary and various other disasters. Insurance is a device not to avert risks, calamities and disasters; but to mitigate their rigours and financial losses. The function of insurance is to spread such loss arising from risks of life over a large number of persons. The operational framework of insurance idea is provided by the general principles of contract. The insurance policy, being a contract, is subject to all the judicial interpretative techniques. Besides, the insurance idea has a compensatory justice component. This brings it in the arena of the law of tort as well. It is even suggested that a fully grown and developed law of insurance may, if not totally displace, decrease the significance of the law of tort. This course is designed to acquaint the students with the conceptual and operational parameters of insurance law in the context of the development of the general principles of law and judicial interpretation to inform the students about the use of law for the establishment of "just" order in insurance and to develop the appreciative and evaluative faculties of the students. COURSE NAME : COMPULSORY PRACTICAL

COURSE CODE : PR-3001

Doctrinal Work Course Objectives:

One of the main purposes of conducting doctrinal research is solving the legal problems of bringing laws. For example, if the government decides to bring umbrella legislation for all the crimes committed against women, it may initiate doctrinal research by some jurists and experts in the field.

It can be utilized for several other purposes as well like to help lawmakers develop meaningful and effective laws, develop fresh legal doctrines, aid courts in reaching effective and legally accurate judgments, help lawyers to interpret statutes and prepare their suits, help students in academia to set a base and many others.

Doctrinal Work Course Outcomes:

Doctrinal research has helped in developing a basic awareness of legal issues among the people. It has immensely helped judges and attorneys in legal suits to develop valid arguments and reach an effective judgment. The development of tort law is a prime example. Doctrinal research by focusing on "law as it is" has helped in percolating a greater awareness about legal issues among the masses. It has also helped in pointing out the loopholes in existing laws and statutes.

Non-Doctrinal Work Course Objectives:

- Non-doctrinal research, also known as socio-legal research, that employs methods taken from other disciplines to generate empirical data that answers research questions. (Salim Ibrahim Ali 2017)
- The purpose of non-doctrinal research is to check the utility of a law that has been brought or how it impacts the non-legal aspects of society. Also, non-legal factors affect the implementation of the law. Sometimes, a very comprehensive law is brought but sometimes the environment is such that its effectiveness is shielded by those circumstances.

Non-Doctrinal Work Course Outcomes:

- Non-doctrinal research focuses on law in action in its playing field i.e., the society. It could be of great help for analyzing the effects of laws on people and how to bring out legal reforms. It helps the law to catch up with this ever-changing society. Judicial activism is a great product of non-doctrinal research.
- Non-doctrinal research studies law in connection with society and various non-legal aspects that affect the law. It is socio-legal research.
- Non-doctrinal research has a wider scope and studies law in comprehensive terms.

Clinical Legal work, Course Objectives:

One of the main elements of Clinical Education. The reason for this is that, they are first trained as a trainee, then they step up and learn legal skills and at the same time work as educators in the law field. Some of the important contributions can be listed as- First, the focus of this method is rather on students learning it rather than teachers teaching it,

- Hence ample amount of work is put into it by the students itself. Second, when it comes to theoretical norms, they are usually tested and operated upon by the students and teachers and even here it reflecting the working of both teachers and students for the purpose of attaining a common goal.

Clinical Legal work, Course Outcomes:

- It is of great importance to find an active, effective, collaborative, comprehensive and sustained educational method for legal rights. Based on our research, legal clinics have an effectual role in creating these features for legal rights education as far as clinical human rights education can be introduced and recommended as a premier method to increase legal rights knowledge in the community.
- National law school model established post-independent Indian legal education has done a great job in the development of legal education in India with a strong commitment to improving existing legal infrastructure. Certainly, with this spirit, changes in syllabus and structure to cater to the new generation of lawyers.
